CWR Set Sail for Sixth Appearance at IBEX

Bayville, NJ - September 10, 2012

CWR Electronics is pleased to announce they will once again be exhibiting at the International Boatbuilders Exhibition and Conference (IBEX). With the entire marine industry in one place, IBEX 2012 is where the business of boatbuilding gets done. Held from October 2-4, IBEX is known in the marine world as the three most productive days of the year, with opportunities to learn from industry leaders, be inspired by innovation, connect with colleagues to share insights, and make valuable new business connections. More than 500 companies from around the world will be presenting their products on the floor of the Kentucky Exposition Center in Louisville.

“To us, IBEX means three days of valuable business,” said Brian Swanke, CWR President. “Once again we will be able to get a first-hand look at the newest innovations in the industry, while also showing the latest products we have to offer.” Breakthrough products this year at the CWR booth will include the Raymarine a65 touchscreen multifunction display and Rigid M-Series lights.

IBEX exhibitors can expect to make a year’s worth of connections in just three days, making this conference the place to be for 2012. Participants experience the very latest in marine technology alongside the most cutting-edge products, accessories, technologies, tools and materials available to the marine industry today—all in one place. Be sure to stop by booth #948 to find out why CWR remains the leading electronics distributor in the wholesale marine industry.
