Jeppesen Launches Revamped Web Site Making It Easier To Find Information about C-MAP By Jeppesen Charts/Data

Navigation expert Jeppesen released its new C-MAP by Jeppesen Web site with improved navigation and information delivery. Visitors to www.jeppesen.com/lightmarine will find a variety of improvements, beginning with a landing page that includes direct links to Jeppesen’s electronic charting products and accessories. Also elevated to the home page are links to key information, such as coverage areas and compatibility with hardware manufacturers.

The Web site will soon be translated into several languages, including Italian, French, Spanish, German and Norwegian, with tailored content for each region.
