IRIS INNOVATIONS APPOINTS U.S. DISTRIBUTOR FOR MARINE CAMERAS

SeaWide Distribution is Named Exclusive Distributor for North America

Hamble, UK. (December 14, 2009) – Iris Innovations has announced the appointment of SeaWide Distribution as the exclusive U.S. distributor for its extensive line of SeeSeaTV marine grade video cameras. SeaWide is a national wholesale distributor of marine and consumer electronics with four distribution centers located in major boating markets in the U.S. “We strive to recruit business partners who are experts in the sales, installation and service for our unique products,” quoted Tony Digweed, Managing Director for Iris Innovations. “SeaWide’s reputation for offering innovative products, excellent sales and technical support to customers was instrumental in our decision to work together,” Digweed added. SeaWide’s distribution centers serve boat builders, dealers, retailers and electronics installers in marine and consumer electronics.

Designed and tested specifically for marine applications, Iris products deliver dockside and onboard vessel monitoring to marine professionals, search and rescue teams, police authorities, coastguards, military units and boat owners. Generically known as SeeseaTV®, iris is continually expanding its portfolio of marine CCTV (closed circuit television) camera systems to meet the demands of boaters worldwide.
