NMEA POSTS 2022 MARINE ELECTRONICS INSTALLER TRAINING COURSE SCHEDULE

- Basic and Advanced MEI and NMEA 2000 classes offered nationwide
- Virtual and in-person sessions scheduled

SEVERNA PARK, MD—The National Marine Electronics Association (NMEA) has announced the lineup and dates of the marine electronics installer training classes for 2022. Offered are the Basic Marine Electronics Installer (MEI), Advanced Marine Electronics Installer (AMEI), Basic NMEA 2000® Network Installer and Advanced NMEA 2000® Network Installer courses. Basic classes are taught in person and virtually, while advanced classes are only taught in person.

“For 2022, we have a great lineup of both in person and virtual training events,” said Mark Reedenauer, NMEA President & Executive Director. “Our basic installer classes offer the convenience of either virtual or in person training events, while our advanced installer trainings are intentionally in person only events so students can get the best possible learning experience.”

Listed below is the full NMEA 2022 Training Schedule.
